NO IDEA AS TO THE MOTIVE

Martell Had No Enemies and No Money with Him; Why He Was Ambushed
May Never Be Solved

With the search for the slayer of C. Martell, Harpers Ferry, practically abandoned today, the affair remains as mysterious as when the murder was first discovered. None doubts the murder theory, but absolutely nothing has been found which tends to clear up the puzzle which Allamakee county officials are facing.

Martell was found early Friday morning, sitting dead in his skiff, on the river a mile above the town.
Death was caused by bullets which entered the head just behind the left ear and which were fired from ambush. Martell was missing for eight-teen hours before found. He was not known to have enemies. He had no money and robbery as a motive is dismissed.

These are the facts in the possession of the Allamakee county sheriff, A. B. Larson, who has headed the three day search for clues.

Outside of these facts, nothing has been learned. No suspects have been found nor has anything been uncovered which would lead to the identity of the slayer. No motive is advanced and it today appears as though there is little possibility the problem ever will be solved.

CRIGER HAS TUBERCULOSIS

ELKHART, Ind., April 13.—Lou Criger, one time famous American league catcher, was reported in a critical condition today at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jacob Schroeder. He is said to be suffering from tuberculosis.

STOCK BUYER SUICIDES

RACINE, Wis., April 13.—Otto Goll, 40 years of age, a prominent stock buyer of Waterford, widely known in southern Wisconsin, committed suicide by hanging Sunday afternoon, following business reverses.

BIND MAID; ROB HOUSE

CHICAGO, April 13.—Marion Weber, a 20 year old maid, was found bound and gagged and the house ransacked by burglars, by Harry Hertz-berg upon his return from an after heater party today. The robbers got only $15.

ANOTHER NOTCH ON SPENCER'S GUN

JOLIET, Ill., April 13.— Henry Spencer, convicted "tango murderer," and opium dreamer, awaiting at Wheaton hearing on his application for a new trial, was afforded an opportunity this afternoon to add another killing to his fictitious "death list."

Mrs. George Hauser, proprietress of a boarding house, told the police that she identified a picture of Spencer as that of the man who stopped at her house in Joliet for one day on November 19, 1904. On November 18, 1904, John Bate, a chauffeur, was shot to death on the Chicago-Joliet road by a mysterious "Mr. Dove" who hired him to drive to Joliet and then disappeared.

Leaping the obvious gap between the two links, the police announced today they are satisfied that Spencer killed Bate.
He believe he will admit it.
He has admitted everything else.

LIND COMES BACK TO SEE PRESIDENT

Wilson's Special Envoy Returns to Washington From Vera Cruz

TO DISCUSS TAMPICO INCIDENT

U. S. Backs Up Admiral Mayo in His Demand for a Salute to the Flag

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The yacht Mayflower with Special Envoy John Lind aboard, dropped anchor off the navy yard here at 10:15 today, having come direct from Vera Cruz. Lind did not immediately dis-embark, but was expected to confer at the White house with President Wilson later in the day.

Serious Developments

The president planned to take up with Secretary of State Bryan without delay the serious developments which have marked Mexican affairs since last Thursday. It will then be decided whether Huerta's prompt disavowal of the arrest of the American paymaster and his escort is sufficient apology so far as the Mexican federal government is concerned. It was thought likely that it will be so considered inasmuch as Admiral Mayo will exact the salute to the flag which he originally demanded.

It has been brought home to the president and his advisers that Mayo's sharp action was entirely justified. There is a growing anti-American feeling at Tampico and a general disposition on the part of both federal and constitutionalists to ignore foreign rights, according to information here.

The president has not yet taken up with Bryan the official protest presented through Ambassador Willard at Madrid against the constitutionalists' treatment of Spanish subjects in northern Mexico.

Federals Retake Town

TORREON, Mexico, April 13.—San Pedro, one of the principal bases of General Francisco Villa's army in his campaign against General Refugio Velasco's federal forces, was recaptured yesterday by federals, according to advices received here today.

When Villa sent the bulk of his army in pursuit of Velasco's main body, at Parras, the garrison he left at San Pedro was attacked by federal volunteers under command of General Benjamin Argumedo and General Emilio P. Campa. After a fierce struggle, the constitutionalists, greatly outnumbered, were forced to abandon the town.

Meantime, the fighting between Villa's main body and the combined federal forces of General Velasco, General Javier De Moura and General Joaquin Maas continues in the vicinity of Parras.

ASKS STATE UPLIFT HOME

CHICAGO, April 13.—Declaring fine and imprisonment for girl prostitutes to be a "misconceived remedy," the Chicago morals court in its first annual report today urges the establishment of a state institution to uplift fallen women.

BILLY BURKE MARRIES

NEW YORK, April 13.—Miss Billie Burke, the actress, today announced her marriage to Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., former husband of Anna Held. The ceremony was performed in Hoboken Saturday and Ziegfeld went with his bride to her home at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, where they greeted their friends today. Miss Burke appeared as usual Saturday evening in her play, "Jerry." She said today that she would continue to play. She gave her age as 28. Ziegfeld married Anna Held in Paris in 1901 and was her manager until she divorced him several years ago. Recently, however, Mr.
Ziegfeld again became manager of Miss Held.

LOCAL BOYS' CASE TO PARDON BOARD

Mrs. R. B. Harris of La Crosse and Attorney Help Relatives of Chas. Hammon and John Kolb

HEARING IN ST. PAUL TODAY

District Attorney Who Prosecuted the Two Youths There to Prevent Their Parole

Represented by an attorney, and by Mrs. R. B. Harris, the latter the La Crosse woman who has helped them in preparing their case, relatives of Charles Hammon and John Kolb, now serving thirty year sentences for murder, are this afternoon appearing to the Minnesota state board of pardons, St. Paul, for the parole of the young men.

The board met at 2 o'clock. Mr.
Pratt, former district attorney who secured the boys' conviction of the Columbian Heights crime, is present to oppose the parole.

Mrs. Harris is armed with letters from many leading citizens, and it is thought possible the attempt will succeed. The young men have already served nine years of their sentence, and as they were convicted on somewhat doubtful and entirely circumstantial evidence, were quite young at the time, and certainly did not contemplate murder, the case for them is far from weak.

FIRE KILLS THREE

CULPEPPER, Va., April 13.— Fire in the business section of this town, today destroyed three large buildings, caused the death of three men and the injury of six others and a $65,000 loss. Two colored men are believed to be buried beneath falling walls. George Parr, 19, was crushed to death.

PEOPLE URGED TO SEND MANY NAMES

Homecoming Committee Gives Pointers on How to Aid in Swelling Invitation List

The invitation committee of the homecoming affair today issued a statement urging La Crosse people to send in names of former residents who might be induced to return to La Crosse for made in La Crosse, homecoming and Fourth of July week.

The committee, in the statement, also urged that when names of former residents are sent to Chairman W. F. Goodrich the senders enclose the address when possible.

Many lists received are somewhat unsatisfactory because so many addresses are missing.

The committee requests the principals of the schools to ask pupils for names to be brought from their homes. Different factories, it is suggested, may post a sheet with the request that employees add names and addresses to it. No one need fear sending in duplicates as a card is made for each name sent in and in this way duplicate invitations will be prevented.

"Traveling men have knowledge of many former residents," said Mr.
Goodrich today, "and could help greatly by making a list. If every family would furnish the names and addresses of their sons and daughters it would be the means of getting many who otherwise would feel slighted or hurt at not receiving an invitation, whether they can come home or not. The committee hopes that no old resident will be skipped."

RAIN WON'T BOTHER

WASHINGTON, April 13.—When the umpire calls "Play ball," Tuesday he probably will not have to discuss on calling the American and National games on account of rain.
The weather bureau today predicted fair weather over the entire eastern half of the country, with rising temperature for that day.

COUDERAY, Wis., April 13.— Stephen Ohres is under arrest here, charged with setting fire to the residence of Edward Arntz.

COXEY'S ARMY NUMBERS 100

MASSILLON, O., April 13.— Gen. Jacob S. Coxey today announced that his second march of unemployed on Washington will start April 16.

The unemployed were on hand today—100 strong—ready to follow the "General." Accompanied by his wife, the "General" will lead in a phaeton, drawn by a mule. The remainder will ride shanks' horses.

They're Off

TERRAPIN PARK, BALTI-MORE, Md., April 13.—Before a crowd considered the largest that ever attended a baseball game in this city, the Buffalo and Baltimore teams lined up against each other in the opening game of the Federal league here this afternoon. It was estimated that 30,000 fans were in attendance. Earl Moore, the former Chicago Cub, and Walter Blair, were announced as the battery for the visitors, while Manager Knabe of the home team, sent Quinn to the hill, while Fred Jacklisch went behind the bat. Bush and Manassua were the umpires.

MEN VOTE TO CALL OFF COPPER STRIKE

Strike in Calumet District Ends with Men Getting Everything but Union Recognition

MORE THAN HUNDRED LOST LIVES

Nearly Dozen Deaths Charged Directly to Guerilla Warfare Between Gunmen and Miners

CALUMET, Mich., April 13.—The strike of the Michigan Copper Miners has been officially called off. Announcement today at the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners here said that the strikers voted to return to work under the operators' condition that they surrender their union cards, thereby waiving their demand for recognition of the union. An eight hour day and a $3 minimum wage, two of the three principal demands made by the miners, were conceded after the strike began last July.

18,000 Men Out

The surrender of the strikers marked the end of the most bitter labor war ever waged in Michigan.
Approximately 18,000 men went out on strike when it was first called. Of these thousands left the copper country to seek work in other districts.
Some others deserted the strikers and joined the ranks of the non-union strike breakers who were imported from Chicago and New York. Only about 5,000 miners continued the battle.

The copper strike was ordered on July 23, 1913, and on the following day Gov. Ferris sent the entire state militia, numbering 2400 men, into the district.

More Than Hundred Die

Nearly a dozen deaths were charged directly to the guerilla warfare between gunmen employed by the operators and strikers. More than a hundred deaths resulted indirectly from the strike, including the 74 persons, wives and children of the striking miners, who perished in the Christmas eve panic in Italian hall at Red Jacket.

Congress investigated the strike situation. For five weeks, a committee, headed by Chairman Taylor of Colorado, was in the copper country. This committee has not submitted its report.

SAYS ROADS SEEK SYMPATHY

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A concerted movement on the part of railroads to influence public sentiment and make it appear that increased freight rates are necessary was held by Senator Thomas of Colorado, in a senate speech today, to be behind certain of the railroads' actions. He cited recent layoffs by railroads of 40,000 men as one scheme.

Mrs. Cordelia Hardy

(An Appreciation)

"There is no death.
What seems so is transition."

Mrs. Cordelia Ann Hardy, whose death occurred on Wednesday, was born in New York, at Smithville, Jefferson county, September 20, 1844. She was educated in the public and private schools of New York and Michigan. To the latter state the family moved in 1858, settling at Cannonsburg. Here she was married to Albert Hardy December 24, 1865. At Owasco, Michigan, she united with the Congregational church, of which, throughout the rest of her life, she was a faithful, consistent member.

Besides her husband and numerous sorrowing friends, she leaves to mourn her loss four children: Professor Edward L. Hardy and Mrs.
Kate Dickson of San Diego, California; Charles A. Hardy of Eugene, Oregon, and Miss Ella Hardy of Riverside, California.

Mrs. Hardy has always been actively interested in literary clubs, for many years being an active member of the Twentieth Century club. She was a member of the program committee of the local D. A. R. chapter;

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 13.— With Dr. C. C. Meredith, head of the "house of mystery" at Bellevue, and Lucy D. Orr, alias Lucy Damms, his head nurse, held in the county jail charged with murder in connection with the death of Miss Myrtle B. Allison of Wilkensburg, chief interest attached today to a third arrest in the case at Washington, D. C.

Not a Doctor

District Attorney R. H. Jackson refused all information as to the identity of the prisoner, except that the person in custody is "not a doctor."

Jackson was standing pat today on his declaration in regard to Dorothy Arnold, the New York heiress, who, he said, "was a patient of Meredith's and is now dying at her home in New York."

Tried to Destroy Body

The rearsuring of Meredith and the nurse was a midnight climax to a day of important developments, among which were the identification of remains dug up in the United cemetery as those of Mrs. Allison, and the discoveries that a criminal operation had been performed and quicklime used to destroy the features. Two long braids of matted black hair, two gold filled teeth and a toothless upper jaw remained in the pasty substance and by these H.
E. Baxter of Oakdale, Ohio, a brother of Mrs. Allison, based his identification.

PASTORS DEMAND STRICTER SUNDAY

At Meeting This Morning They Adopt Pledge Against Theaters
on Sabbath

At a meeting this morning of the Pastors' Union of La Crosse, a pledge relative to the stricter observance of Sunday and recommendations to effectuate the pledge were adopted as follows:

"There is in the city of Crosse an alarming tendency to crowd out the interests of the church and religion, which results in laxity in church attendance.

"This fact is a matter of deep concern to those who have at heart the general moral and spiritual welfare of the city.

"These conditions are especially enlarged through the exhibitions at the theaters and the moving picture houses, particularly on Sunday afternoons and evenings.

The Recommendations

1. That a sufficient number of these pledges be printed and distributed by the La Crosse Pastors' union.

2. That all the churches possible be induced to unite in this understanding.

3. That all pastors in La Crosse be respectfully requested to preach on the subject "Sunday Observance and Moving Picture Houses on Sundays" April 19, if possible.

"The movement is not an attack on the theaters and the moving picture houses," said one of the pastors this morning, "but simply an attempt of the churches to receive their share of the attention of the people. The theaters have six days of the week, and we want the other."

sede the interstate commerce commission in taking complete charge of banking, were proposed in three bills introduced today by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis.

MADISON, Wis., April 13.—Of the

this morning reported their action on the special session resolution of Attorney General Walter C. Owen.
Of these, 435 asked for the session, 175 voted against it and 68 report-

To date 61 per cent of the towns reporting their action on state aid

ALBANY, N. Y., April 13.— Supt. of Prisons Riley this afternoon declared that no mistake had been made in the execution of the four gunmen at Ossining. He intimated one or more of the men made a statement to Warden Clancy at 4 a. m. today which amounted to a confession involving the others.

From the electric chair in the gloomy death house of Sing Sing prison, the souls of four New York gunmen, one after another, today were shot out into the sunrise.
This was the order of their passing:

Frank Cirofici ("Dago Frank")— Shocked at 5:38 a. m. Dead at 5:44
a. m.

Jacob Seidenschner (Whitey Lewis)—Shocked at 5:48 a. m. Dead at 5:52 a. m.

Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") —Shocked at 5:57 a. m. Dead at 6:02 a. m.

Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie)— Shocked at 6:08 a. m. Dead at 6:17 a. m.

None Confess

Not one of the gunmen at the chair made full confessions of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler.
Three of the convicted killers died grimly silent. Seidenschner, who was second to die, made a remarkable statement in the death chair which, in the opinion of most of those who heard it, practically amounted to a declaration that the other three were guilty.

"Gentlemen," said Seidenschner as he sat with death only an instant away, "I want to say a few words for the sake of justice. Those people—those witnesses who swore they saw me shoot—are perjurers. I swear by God I did not shoot at Rosenthal."

Seidenschner's statement came after Cirofici died. While twenty gray faced men sat uneasily in straight backed pews in the death house which is like a little bare country chapel save for the grim instrument of death at one end—the doomed gunman, preceded by Rabbi Goldstein, the prison Jewish chaplain, walked into the room between the two big guards, his coming heralded by the quivering tones of the rabbi as he intoned hymns and psalms from a Hebrew book of prayer.

THE STRAIGHT
AND NARROW WAY

Among the reasons that give the country such confidence in President Wilson, there is one great underlying reason. The plain, progressive citizen all over the land believes that Mr. Wilson is the radical leader of the time, well educated and thoughtful, but irrevocably set upon constant and decided progress toward a more just world. The best proof that Mr.

Wilson is that kind of man lies in his acts, but he has also gracefully expressed his conviction in words:

I am accused of being a Radical.

If I seek to go to the root is to be a Radical, a Radical I am. After all, everything that flowers in beauty in the air of heaven draws its fairness, its vigor from its roots; nothing living can blossom into fruitage unless through nourishing stalks deep-planted in the common soil. Up from that soil, up from the silent bosom of the earth, rise the currents of life and energy. Up from the common soil, up from the great heart of the people, rise joyously today streams of hope and determination that are bound to renew the face of the earth in glory. I tell you that the so-called Radicalism of our time is simply the effort of nature to release the generous energies of our people.

This reputation must not be lost.

As long as the country believes that he is the radical leader, it matters little that he may have touches of bad luck; that the reactionary interests may fill their newspapers with shrewd talk about not giving us more legislation than we can assimilate; that the president's enemies, headed by Mr. Hearst, may seize upon the canal tolls, upon the death of some individual in Mexico, or upon some other pretext, to marshal their forces against the president. But once let there be faltering on his part, or let any faltering in congress seem to be acquiesced in by him, and his great weapon will be gone. His factional enemies in the party, his natural opponents in the other two parties, and the widespread conservative "system" in finance, society and the press will pounce upon him. His triumph will be at an end.—Har-

HOW DIFFERENT IN FIFTEEN YEARS

"Taint her."

You see, that sordid romance of the Johnstones dates back some fifteen years, so anyone who is inclined to get an ereful of every black-haired and red-haired telephone girl for the delectable purpose of speculating upon whether she ever sat on a manager's desk, "dangled her legs," and chewed gum in open and insolent defiance of manager's wife, may as well abandon the theme.

Times and customs change. It will be agreed that newspaper workers have as much opportunity to observe their "hello" allies as have any class, and this is the verdict of the news writers upon the Twentieth Century telephone operator.

"She aint that kind of a girl."

SUCCESS DEPENDS UPON "PEP"

The outlook for Homecoming

Week is "getting better all the time."

The interest and activity shown by the committees suggests success in a large way. The one essential the presence of which time will prove is co-operation on the part of all our citizens. A celebration of this kind is never really great unless it becomes a united impulse. It builds on enthusiasm, patriotism. As usual, we turn to slang for the real word.

Its motive power is "pep."

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Ain't it Fine Today?
Sure, this world is full of trouble—I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough, an' double, Reason for complaint.
Rain an' storm have come to fret me, Skies were often gray, Thorn' an' brambles have beset me On the road—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin' Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin' Thinkin' of the past?
Each may have his tribulation, Water with his wine.
Life it ain't no celebration.
Trouble? I've had mine—But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin'.
Not a month ago, Havin' losin', takin', givin', As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow Fell across the way;
It may rain again tomorrow,
It may rain—but, say,
Ain't it fine today!

The Springful Cow
She was even more afraid of cows than most girls, so when she spied a placid animal recumbent under a at first refused to go through the her fears to some extent and they they always do. At this the little

A Resident Known to all Our Read-

Readers of The Tribune have been

How to Save Your Eyes

Try this Free Prescription

Do your eyes give you trouble?
Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes?
Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed.
That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time.
Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wideawake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.

Wanted, a Recipe
When a traveling street fair recently left Albany, Ga., a local merchant was left with a supply of confetti on his hands. As the fair was "play-friend there who was interested in one of the concessions and sent him the following telegram:

"Shipping you today 100 pounds confetti to sell at fair."
In a day or two he had a reply.

Dickens' Fad for Jewelry.

The eccentricities of Dickens included an exceeding fondness for gaudy jewelry, of which he wore a great quantity. Not only were his fingers covered with a considerable number of rings brilliantly set, but his person was adorned with all kinds of flashy gems. He specially delighted in his two watches, one in each lower pocket of his waistcoat, across which stretched a huge chain.—The Sunday Magazine.

Tuning Fork in Surgery.

A brand new use has been found for the tuning fork. The little instrument which has for centuries been used to give musicians the correct pitch is being found of great service in the diagnosis of disease. So valuable has it proved that it promises soon to take its place beside the stethoscope and thermometer as an essential part of every good physician's equipment.

Use for Port Oxford Cedar.
Manufacturers of artificial legs are of the Pacific coast has many of the necessary qualities.

"We are dealing with human nature, mediocrity, and not with speculation. It is in the very nature of things to distrust that which we do not understand. You say, old and without physical attractions. Beauty is of all things most drawing. We crowd about it, we crown it, we flatter it. The old and unattractive we pass by. If I had not seen you here tonight, heard you talk, saw in a kind of rebellious enchantment over your knowledge of the world and your distinguished acquaintance, I should have gone to my grave believing that my suspicions were correct. I dare say that I shall make the same mistake again."
"But do not judge so hastily."
"That I promise."
"Did you learn among other things what Mr. Warrington had done?"

"Yes. A sordid affair. Ordinary peculations that were wasted over gaming-tables." Warrington had told her the truth. At least, the story told by others coincided with his own. But what was it that kept doubt in her mind? Why should she not be ready to believe what others believed, what the man himself had confessed? What was it to her that he looked like Arthur, that he was guilty or innocent?
"And his name?" She wondered if the colonel knew that also.
"Warrington is assumed. His real name is Paul Ellison."
"Paul Ellison." She repeated it slowly. Her voice did not seem her own. The table, the lights, the faces, all receded and became a blur.

A Bit of a Lark.
Mallow gave Craig one of his favorite cigars. The gambler turned it over and inspected the carnelian label, realizing that this was expected of him. Mallow smiled complacently. They might smoke as good as that at the government house, but he rather doubted it.
Trust a Britisher to know a good pipe-charge; but his selection of cigars was seldom to be depended upon.

"Don't see many of these out here," was Craig's comment, and he tucked away the cigar in a vest pocket.

"They cost me forty-three cents apiece, without duty." The vulgarian's pleasure lies not in the article itself so much as in the price paid for it. On the plantation Mal-low smoked Burma cheroots because he really preferred them. There he drank rye whiskey, consorted with his employees, gambled with them and was not above cheating when he had them drunk enough. Away from home, however, he was the man of money; he bought vintage wines when he could, wore silks, jingled the sovereigns whenever he thought some one might listen, bullied the servants, all with the childish belief that he was following the footsteps of aristocracy, hoodwinking no one, not even his kind. "I'm worth a quarter of a million," he went on. "Luck and plugging did it.
One of these days I'm going to sell out and take a whack at that gay Paris. There's the place to spend your pile. You can't get your money's worth any place else."

Paris, Craig's thought flew back to the prosperous days when he was plying his trade between New York and Cherbourg, on the Atlantic liners, the annual fortnight in Paris and the Grand-Prix. He had had his diamonds, then, and his wallet of yellow-backs; and when he had called for vintage wines and choice Havanas it had been for genuine love of them. In his heart he despised Mallow. He knew himself to be a rogue, but Mallow without money would have been a bold predatory scoundrel. Craig knew also that he himself was at soul too cowardly to be more than despicably bad. He envied Mallow's also-comer fearlessness, his frank brutality, his strength upon which dissipation had as yet left no mark; and Mallow was easily forty-five.

his feet until the races. He sent a BATTLE OF SHILOH

AT THE CASINO

That war pictures are not a thing of the past is evidenced by the wonderful pictorial production that is to be seen at the Casino today.
"The Battle of Shiloh" is a masterpiece in more ways than one. In addition to portraying with vividness one of the most terrible battles of the Civil war, it has a story that is at once gripping and satisfying.

More than one thousand men and horses are used in the picture and the amount of gunpowder burned is enormous. There are four reels, each one with a thrill in every foot, and the picture leaves an impression that will not soon be forgotten.

NORTH SIDE

TEMPLARS ATTEND EASTER SERVICES

Rev. Finch A. Clarke of the North Presbyterian Church Preaches to Crowded Auditorium

Sixty Knights Templar of the La Crosse commandery No. 9 assembled yesterday morning at the North Presbyterian church for the annual Easter service of the commandery. The auditorium of the church was insufficient to hold the people attending the services, the Sunday school room being opened to the congregation.

For the text of his sermon Rev. Clarke took the first chapter of the First Epistle of Peter, verses 3 and 4:
"Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead."

"To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you."

The Sermon
In the way of introduction, Rev. Clarke said:

"More than thirty years after the trial, death and resurrection of our Lord were these words uttered by St. Peter, who at the time of the trial denied his Lord thrice, and who at the time of the resurrection on the first day of the week, when the empty tomb was discovered, could scarcely believe that our Lord had risen from the dead. At that time, Peter's faith was not thoroughly crystallized, but thirty years later, after three decades of Christian experience and of the growth of the Christian church, he could say, 'Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.'"

"The resurrection was not thoroughly believed at the time of the event itself, but during the years that followed, the friends of Christ could not disbelieve it on account of the conclusive and compelling evidence, so we today, nineteen centuries after that most significant event in the earthly career of our Lord, realize that this doctrine is the very keynote of the Christian faith, the very basis of the Christian church and the foundation of the Christian religion."

Tells of Templars

"All our guests here today (the Knights Templar) in a very peculiar and significant manner have vindicated their firm belief in the resurrection of Christ from the dead. Several centuries after the crucifixion, the men who were inspired by this doctrine, the resurrection, faithfully and heroically consecrated their lives for the protection of the holy sepulchre of our Lord, and they, with us, can believe with Peter that God has brought unto us a living hope by the resurrection of Christ from the dead."

Pigs on Shipboard.

The killing of a pig at sea is always an occasion of much importance, not only for the reason that fresh meat is to be enjoyed—a great luxury on a sailing ship after perhaps months of salt provisions—but because what is termed a "pig breeze" or favorable wind may be looked upon as a certainty. Pigs when kept on sailing ships are often let out of their pens, and their movements, which are believed to foretell the state of the wind to be expected, are watched with keen interest.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. Chas. A. Beach, druggist, 603 Main street.

Explaining Ezekiel's Vision.

An eastern traveler now announces in all seriousness that Ezekiel's vision of the wheels was probably inspired by a natural phenomenon, such as was seen about 1907 at sunset in Mesopotamia, by Dr. Hume Griffith. The appearance of bright concentric rings, spokes, and wings in the afterglow tallied exactly with the prophet's description, and the time of year was also that referred to by Ezekiel.

Of Gardens.

God Almighty planted a garden; and indeed it is the purest of human pleasures. It is the greatest refreshment to the spirit of man, without which buildings and palaces are but gross handicraft. In the royal ordering of gardens there ought to be gardens for all the months in the year, in which, severally, things of beauty may be then in season.

LINLEY LAW TO CLOSE ROADHOUSE

District Attorney to Start Proceedings to Make Certain Extinction of "Smith's Place"

MILLER GIRL STILL BEING HELD

Is Material Witness Against Bartender Who Robbed Stranger; No Trace of Fugitives

To insure the closing of "Smith's place," a resort on the South Salem road, District Attorney D. S. Law announced this morning that he would immediately start proceedings under the Linley law. This is the same measure invoked against Frankie La Salle, a local resort keeper.

Under its provisions the place may be closed for one year from date and owner or owners placed under heavy bond not to re-open. In the event it is re-opened the bond is forfeited, the place is again closed and the owners are subject to fine or imprisonment.

Saturday, following a conference with her attorney, Mrs. Nellie Smith, wife of "Cord" agreed to close.

"Madge" Miller, the girl who attempted to run away with "Cy" Smith, the bartender alleged to have robbed a Californian of his "roll," will not be released, as originally intended. She is a material witness in the case against the bartender and will be held pending results of the search for him.

REALTY BUSINESS OF WEEK DOUBLES

During the last week real estate transactions in La Crosse county have jumped to twice the normal volume. The total business of the week amounted to $257,018, according to the figures of Andrew Thompson, registrar of deeds. In all fifty documents dealing with transfer of the title of land were executed.

The report in full follows:
Eleven city sales, $44,73; nine city mortgages, $17,700; fifteen country sales, $106,743; seven country mortgages, $34,350; seven mortgages satisfied, $30,925; three mortgages assigned, $22,570; total, $257,018.

An unusually large sale was made this morning when Herman Tessman sold approximately 10 acres of land in the Town of Campbell to Emil Tessman for $9,500. John Ratz sold a lot in La Crosse to John Julius today.

Mixed Metaphors.

A clergyman in an eastern town warned his hearers lately "not to walk in a slippery path, lest they be sucked, maelstrom-like, into its meshes." This metaphor suggests that of another clergyman, who prayed that the Word might be as a nail driven in a sure place, sending its roots downwards and its branches upwards.

Once in a Blue Moon.

"Once in a blue moon" means very rarely indeed. The expression resembles that of "the Greek Kalends," which means "never," because there were no Greek Kalends. The origin of the expression is not known, but it was used as early as the sixteenth century.

OTTUMWA BELLE TO GET NEW BOILERS

The Ottumwa Belle, a tow boat belonging to the Attley Lumber company of Stillwater, Minn., towed by the J.M. and the Pathfinder, two other boats belonging to the same company, anchored late Saturday afternoon in the Black river on the shore of Copeland park.

The boat was brought to LaCrosse for the installation of two new boilers, which are being made by the La Crosse Boiler company. The work of installing the boilers will begin in a few days.

The boats, which are in charge of Captain W. L. Hunter of Pepin, Wis., are used to tow logs from Stillwater, Minn., and Prescott, Wis., to Ft. Madison, Ia., where the Attley Lumber company has mills. The boats wintered at Fountain City, Minn.

It is thought that a month or more will elapse before the projected improvements are completed. As soon as the new boilers are in place, the boat will immediately resume the work between Stillwater and Ft. Madison.

That of a field gun firing a projectile weighing about seven kilograms with a muzzle velocity of 900 inches is 115,000 horsepower.

PHILLIPS' ROTH
One of the happiest events of Easter Sunday was the marriage of Miss Mildred Phillips and Mr. Frank G.
Roth. The wedding ceremony took place at high noon, at St. Patrick's church, Chicago, Ill., and was performed by the Rev. Father O'Donoghue.
After the ceremony an elegant seven course dinner was served in the private dining room at the Palmer house. The table decorations were laid for the bride couple, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gannon and daughter Helen, and the Rev. Father O'Donoghue.

Mrs. Roth is a popular young lady who just three months ago came to La Crosse with her parents to make her home. Her father is manager of the ladies' suit department at the Doerflinger store. Mr. Roth is one of the best known young men in La Crosse, both in business and social ways, having lived here all his life.
Mr. and Mrs. Roth will take an extended wedding trip all through the east including New York city, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Washington, D.
C., and other places of interest. They will be at home after May 15 to their many friends at 1524 Ferry street.
Mr. and Mrs. Phillips returned home Monday morning from Chicago, after Mr. and Mrs. Roth had started east.

SOCIAL BRIEFS
A baby daughter, Charlotte Flora, was born to Dr. and Mrs. Carl B.
Speth at St. Anne's hospital yesterday.

Miss Mary McNamara, who arrived from Rochester about three weeks ago for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McNamara, 307 Caledonia street, left this morning for San Diego, Cal.

Dr. Rollins of St. Charles, Minn., was called here yesterday to attend a patient.

Miss Rose Kelley left for New York city after spending Easter here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.

BRIDE IN QUARREL SHOOTS HER MATE
Is Under Arrest for Murder as Result of Tragic Spat on Honeymoon

LINCOLN, Neb., April 13.—Having been a bride four months, Mrs.
Earl Allender is today a widow, having shot and killed her husband during a quarrel last night. She is now under arrest and was prostrated when she learned that her husband was dead.

The couple had retired for the night when their quarrel started. According to the woman, Allender fired twice at her. Then she wrested the weapon from him and fired twice, one bullet striking him in the shoulder and the second piercing his right lung.
The wounded man ran from the house and fell dead on a neighbor's porch. When the police arrived Mrs. Allender was locked in her room, fearing the return of her husband.

Pre-Raphaelite Revival.
A distinguished painter employed a small boy from a neighboring slum as a model. He gave the child some tea, and asked him if he would like brown bread or white, expecting, as is usual with such youngsters, that he would ask for white. The boy, however, asked for brown bread. "Hello!" exclaimed the painter, astonished, "do you like brown bread?" "Yes," replied the boy, "it's got more nitrogen in it."

One Way of Looking at It.
Parson—"Why don't you get your boy to go to church instead of gadding about the street?" Parishoner—"Yes, sir, I've told 'im church is the right place and 'e ought to go, and 'is father often tells 'im that 'e wouldn't get no more 'arm in goin' to church an' listenin' to you than 'e picks up with the low fellers 'e loafs about with all day on Sunday."—Winter's Pie.

Discipline.
In the old days the wives of naval officers accompanied them on cruises.
This privilege was suddenly withdrawn, and a certain Captain F. had his wife and daughter on board his ship at Nice when the order to send them ashore reached him. He sent the following reply to the navy department: "Received order. Communicated same to Mrs. F. She refuses to go. What do?"

ELDERON VISITED BY $80,000 FIRE Bank Building, Warehouse and Several Small Buildings Burn in State Town

WITTENBERG, Wis., April 13.— The business section of Elderon, a Marathon county village, was practically wiped out by fire early Sunday morning. The fire, of unknown origin, started in a hardware store.
The property destroyed includes the Elderon bank building, three stores, a saloon, blacksmith shop, the warehouse of the Northern Milling company, a factory building and several barns. Most of the furniture and all of the records were removed from the bank building before the fire reached it, but the mercantile and other stocks were entirely ruined. The loss will total $80,000.
But little insurance was carried.

To Take Out Coffee Stains.
The most difficult of all stains to take out are those made by coffee.
With care, however, the stain can be removed from the most delicate silk or woolen fabric. Rub the mark gently with a little pure glycerine, then rinse it in lukewarm water, lay a cloth over the damp part on the wrong side, and press with a cool iron until dry.
Do not wet more of the material than is absolutely necessary.

Her Parody.
A little four-year-old went to Sunday school the first time and heard the children singing, "Once I was blind, but now I can see." That afternoon her sister heard her sing: "One side was blind, but now it can see."

FORMER RESIDENT BURIED AT TOMAH

Remains of Charles E. Bell Brought from Tomahawk for Interment in To-mah Cemetery

TOMAH, Wis., April 13.—The body of Charles E. Bell, a former resident of this city, was brought to this city on Friday afternoon and taken to the residence of Dr. A. R.
Bell, a son of the deceased. Mr. Bell was well known here, having resided in the city and community nearly all his life. His age was about 68 and he was spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Walter Bingham. For the past few months his health had failed considerably and his condition was considered as very serious for some time. Four children survive him, his wife having died eighteen years ago. The children are Dr. A.
R. Bell of this city, Mrs. Walter Bingham of Tomahawk, Mr. George Bell of Marshfield and Mr. Harry Bell of Tomahawk. The funeral was held Saturday morning from the Congregational church, Rev. Johnathan Smith officiating. Interment was made in the Jacksonville cemetery.

Schools to Open Monday
The pupils of the public schools will resume their studies on Monday, April 13th, after a two weeks' vacation. Several members of the high school family have returned to the city after spending the two weeks at their homes or at other places. Miss Mary Rodgers will succeed Mr. Fruth as science teacher.
Mr. Fruth having accepted a position in the Fond du Lac schools.
Several of the teachers have signed their contracts to teach here next year next year and it is said that there will be but few changes in the faculty.

Students home for Easter A large number of the Tomah people who are attending various schools are here for the holidays. Among them are Wilbert Hendricks, Arthur Jones, Robert Grawine, Florence Hamilton and Bernard Drowatzky, all of whom are students at the University of Wisconsin and will return to their duties Monday. Gordon Smith is home from St. John's Military academy. Miss Vera Naylor from the state normal school at La Crosse, also Miss Vera Skinner from the Stout institute at Menominee.

Local and Personal Mr. William Collinge returned on Thursday from Brandon, Wis., where he visited at the home of his parents.

Raymond Reinhardt, who has been visiting friends in Sparta, returned to his home recently.
Mr. Charles Underwood has returned from Oakfield, where he attended the funeral of his brother, the late Dr. L. M. Underwood. The automobile in which the doctor was killed is being repaired and was purchased by Mr. Dan Burkey.

The free rest room which was established in the Homemaker building by the ladies of the Civic club, is being used considerable at present and it is hoped that those residing in the community surrounding the city will use it when in the city shopping.

Local hardware men are now displaying fishing tackle and the like in their display windows. As the first day of fishing is not far away the local sportsmen can be seen getting their tackle together.

Miss Dorothy Beebe of Sparta is visiting friends in this city.

Good Friday was observed in several churches in the city, special services being held.

The members of the Methodist church are contemplating building an addition on the church.

Tickling Trout.
Tickling trout is an ancient if not exactly honorable way of catching them. The hand is inserted in the water very cautiously under the fish when he is resting quietly with his head upstream and if the touch of the finger is light he will sometimes allow himself to be tickled slightly. When the hand is well under the fish he is fired out of the water over the "tickler's" shoulder.

Mending a Broken Vase.
A beautiful little white vase was pottery.

PEG O' MY HEART

"Peg O' My Heart" with dainty Florence Martin in the leading role of the wistful Irish madcap, comes to La Crosse Theater Wednesday, April 15, matinee and night. The old adage to the effect that "The Play's the Thing" has never been more fully brought home than by the phenomenal success of Oliver Morosco's production of J. Hartley Manners' bewitching comedy of youth, which is now in its second year at the Cort Theater, New York, with Laurette Taylor in the role of Peg.
The plot concerns itself with the entrance, into an exclusive and aristocratic English family, of a young Irish girl who has come to England to obtain the major share of the estate of a wealthy uncle, from whom her mother has been estranged since her marriage. The uncle dies before she reaches England, so by a clause of his will she is placed under the guardianship of some responsible person in return for the sum of one thousand pounds yearly.

Owing to the failure of a bank, which has reduced them to penury, the Chichester family agrees to undertake the care of the girl, and a sorry mess they make of it, attempting to curb her natural exuberance with books, tutors, and rules of etiquette. She returns good for evil by saving the daughter from an elopement with an unprincipled lover.
How she is prevented from returning to her father, bitter with rebellion at the treatment she has received from the man she loves, brings the climax to the story.

The character of Peg is one of the most original appealing and lovable ones that has ever been visualized on the stage, and Florence Martin, the young American actress, brings charm naïveté to the role.

M'INTYRE AND HEATH
McIntyre and Heath, will be the attraction at La Crosse Theater on Friday, April 17, in John Cort's elaborate revival of George V. Hobart and Jean Schwartz' highly successful musical comedy, "The Ham Tree." The assertion that James McIntyre is today one of the best known entertainers of the American stage would probably meet with a chorus of inquiry as to whom Mr. McIntyre might be. The inquirers would include many who know themselves well informed on matters theatrical.

But the added assertion that Thomas Kurtin Heath belongs in exactly the same category, and the familiar association of names brings a nod of recognition from the reader and a smile in remembrance of McIntyre and Heath. Beginning under the white circus tents about forty years ago, McIntyre and Heath have passed successfully through circus, variety, minstrel, farce, comedy, vaudeville and into musical comedy, and the echo of mirth has always been resounding behind them as they passed on.

Historical Note.
"Wasn't King John a wicked man?" said the professor's little daughter the other evening. "He used to run over people with his motor cars." The professor was puzzled. "Haven't you made a mistake?" he inquired doubt-fully. "Surely, your teacher didn't tell you that?" "Oh, yes, she did. She told us that King John ground down the people with his taxis."

TRAIN KILLS AUTOIST.

BELOIT, Wis., April 13.— Fearing that the automobile in which he was riding with three other men was going to be struck by an engine as it crossed tracks of the Milwaukee road in this city Saturday night, Oliver Peterson, aged 25, of Rockford, Ill., leaped from the car immediately in front of the automobile and died in one hour from his injuries.
The car crossed the tracks in safety.

to the chair by Rabbi Goldstein, and held the book of prayer in his right hand.

Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie), the most intelligent of the gunmen, was the hardest to kill. It took four shocks to drive life from his frame.

Kisses the Warden
One of the few spectacular features of the execution was provided by Rosenberg in the death house. Each of the gunmen, as he left his cell, called out "Good-bye" to his fellows and each shook the hand of Head Keeper McNerny and Warden Clancy. Rosenberg, however, broke down, threw his arms about Clancy and kissed him on the cheek. The warden was so affected that he could barely give the death signal.

One of the most pitiful phases of the wholesale execution was the agony of Mrs. Cirofici. When she arrived before dawn, two strong keep-

Becker Not Moved
NEW YORK, April 13.—In his cell in the Tombs, former Police Lieut. Charles Becker today displayed little interest in the execution of the four gunmen who paid with their lives for the murder of Herman Rosenthal which Becker has been found guilty of planning.

The convicted man, now awaiting a new trial, is apparently interested only in himself. He slept soundly last night in his cell while the men he is alleged to have employed to kill Rosenthal spent their last hours in the death house at Sing Sing.

ers were needed to support the aged woman from the warden's carriage into the building. There, for more than an hour, she wept over her son.

Belief that the gunmen were surely guilty of the crime for which they died, bred by Seidenschner's statement—and more, perhaps, by the manner of its delivery—was intensified before the executions by Father Cashin.

"Father," he was asked, "will Dago Frank confess?"

"I think not," was the reply.

"Do you, personally, think him guilty?" was the next query. "Don't answer unless you wish to do so."

"I cannot say that," was the priest's reply. "But if you knew what is here—(touching his forehead)—you would have some news."

The bodies of the gunmen will be surrendered today to their relatives who, according to Warden Clancy, asked for them before the execution.

Leaves Written Statement
After the death of the gunmen it was learned that "Dago Frank" left a long written statement with Father Cashin. The priest admitted the statement had to do with the Rosenthal murder, but refused to make known its contents. It is generally believed that Clancy made at least a partial confession in the statement and it is understood he declared Harry Vallon, "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" were the actual murderers.

"The statement will not be made public unless it is necessary," said Father Cashin. "In the event of a second trial of Lieut. Becker, it will be offered in evidence."

Harry Vallon, understood to have been named by "Dago Frank," figured prominently in the trial of the gunmen. He was a gambler and with Jack Rose and Bridge Webber gained immunity by appearing as witnesses for the state.

Purely Figurative.
"Every man," says the bishop of London, "must be his own Columbus and find the continent of truth." This is the first time that we had heard America called the continent of truth, and one wonders where the present fashion of flattery is going to end.—Punch.

No Use to Him.
Goodheart—"I've got you down for a couple of tickets; we're getting up a raffle for a poor man of our neighborhood." Joakley—"None for me, thank you. I wouldn't know what to do with a poor man if I won him."—Christian Register.

The Soul's Health.
A good conscience is to the soul what health is to the body; it preserves a constant ease and serenity within us, and more than counterbalances all the calamities and afflictions that can possibly befall us.—Addison.

MADGE MILLER IS GIVEN SENTENCE

Madge Miller, who was arrested at Winona in connection with the robbery committed at the "Cord" Smith road house, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of frequenting a house of ill fame in county court this afternoon and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Miss Miller was given an opportunity to plead on this charge instead of that of accomplice in connection with the robbery, because she confessed to the police.

MRS. CORDELIA HARDY (An Appreciation)

member of the Shakespeare club when that organization was in existence, and was at the time of her death an active, honored member of Zata Literary club.

Her rich personality found expression in a variety of ways: as a true helpmate for her husband in his chosen profession, in making their house a home of quiet refinement and culture. She appreciated his work and his attainments, and truly adorned and graced his home. Hers was a happy domestic and social life. Those who knew Mrs. Hardy best, think of her not merely as a member of a certain church, or as a woman interested in intellectual improvement, or as one who presided over a cultured home—though she was faithful to her duty as she conceded it towards all these interests—but as something more and greater than any one of these combined. She was too large hearted, too open minded to be provincial, too open minded to do the conventional thing. "His trait was noticeable in her attitude towards newcomers. 'Perhaps the stranger has something good in him that we need to get,' she has often been heard to remark."

Mrs. Hardy had keen relish for discussing all questions of the hour, all human problems; she participated in with a spirit of fairness and frankness that kept her in touch with the thought of the day. She was a lover of good books, catholic in her taste and the range of her reading; in all literary matters her judgments were sane, unexaggerated and discriminating. She was clear-eyed in discovering varied sorts of excellence, a lover of the good, the true and the beautiful in life, in nature, and in human kind—a combination making a rare and delightful companionship. Her temperament was poetic, but was steadied by a strong sense of humor, which frequently manifested itself in a bubbling, most contagious laughter. "Never could she have outlived her contemporaries, for she was in mind, in spirit, and in interests the contemporary of both the old and the middle-aged; all who knew her loved her and were cheered and helped by her genial nature, her interest in all around her, and by her cheerful, optimistic philosophy of life. "One must keep up a good heart anyway," was a characteristic expression of hers. There was thus a note of "The Eternal Melodies" in her. She had Tennyson's conviction that "fear, doubt and suffering will find answer and relief only through faith in a God of love." Acts of kindness or charity she did by a sure intuition—certainly not from any perfunctory sense of duty. Helpfulness without ostentation as truly epitomized her work for others as poise and serenity do her character. She believed with the lines of her beloved "In Memoriam" (which seem especially applicable to her own life and faith),

"Oh yet we trust that somehow good will be the final goal of ill, To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood."

"That nothing walks with aimless feet; That not one life shall be destroyed, Or cast as rubbish to the void, When God hath made the pile complete."

"Behold we know not anything; I can but trust that good will fall At last—far off—at last, to all,
And every winter change to spring."

Great Author's Optimism.
Of that form of eccentricity closely related to egotism, whereby many of the world's greatest artists and writers have conveyed to us their appreciation of their own work, a most interesting case is that of Thackeray, ordinarily a most modest man. But there is good authority that Thackeray never passed the house in Russell square wherein he lived when he wrote "Vanity Fair," without raising his hat—a tribute from himself to his great work.—The Sunday Magazine.

VAUDEVILLE OPENS TO PACKED HOUSE

First Bill of Spring Season Pleases a Large Audience Yesterday

CLEVER HORSE IS THE STAR

Captain Sigsbee Displays an Intelligence That Is Almost Human

Vaudeville is on once more at the Majestic. Hundreds of people packed the house at the Easter re-opening yesterday afternoon and evening, when Captain Sigsbee, the educated horse, displayed almost human intelligence in one of the most entertaining acts witnessed here this season.

As a musical treat the Six Cecilia Maids offered a rare act. Three violins, cello, harp and piano form the instrumental sextet which captured the house last night. After rendering several selections of higher class music the musicians swung into ragtime. In addition to the instrumental work vocal solos and a sextet song entered into the number and when the curtain went down with every body doing the tango, the girls were forced to respond to several curtain calls.

Belzebug had the house guessing with his mimic work during which he exhibited habits of the cigarette fiend, apparently swallowing a half dozen cigarettes.

Emile Turenne and Paul, as they are billed on the program, give a good exhibition of cannon ball juggling. Harry Wardell, a blackface comedian, makes the bill complete from a humorous standpoint.

Former City Attorney Declares that He Will Not Permit Payment of Money to Officials

TO EXAMINE BILLS PERSONALLY

Will Go Over Every Item Calling for Money at the Next Meeting of the Common Council

Former City Attorney A. H. Schubert this afternoon declared positively that he intends going through with his program to stop the payment of money to city officials for city work. "The law is plain on the subject," said Mr. Schubert today, "and it is absolutely illegal for any city official to participate in any contract with the city, either as the principal or sub-contractor."

"I intend to go over every bill presented to the council at its next meeting and will not permit the payment of money to city officials."

Mr. Schubert said that he had not made up his mind as to what procedure he would start against those he finds accepting pay from the city.

Alderman William Torrance, former mayor and president of the council, it is understood, will have bills to present to the city for iron work at the new pumping station.

Mr. Torrance and his friends defend his acceptance of city work with the assertion that the fact that he has taken the work has done much to expedite the work there. He has furnished much of the iron work.

Mayor Sorensen received the contract for the woodwork at the new pumping station, but maintains he isn't furnishing the goods—that merely bid for the Segelke-Kohlhaus company and turns the pay over to them immediately upon its receipt.

NEW CLOTHES AND OLD GRADS SWARM

New clothes and old graduates swarmed in the halls of the high school this morning, when the building re-opened after the annual Easter vacation. The school itself also has furnished up for the spring session. The janitor washed the windows and scrubbed the floors.

The grade schools also opened this morning.

Daniel Webster was once dining with a snobbish Bostonian who had the ill manners to boast of the quality, age and cost of his wine. TINY GIRL'S NERVE SAVES HER LIFE

Presence of mind saved Mary Lehrke, aged 7, from serious injury and possible death, when her right foot was caught in a cattle guard on the crossing over the Northwestern track at the Rubber Mills last evening.

The girl was returning home with a smaller sister from a visit on Indian Hill and, in crossing the track, her foot became fastened in the cattle guard on the outside of the rail. But a few seconds after she became caught a train came in sight, the girl struggling frantically to extricate herself and screaming the while for help. The engineer of the train saw the girl on the track and applied the brakes, but not in time to stop the train before reaching the crossing. But a second before the train reached her, Mary leaped far out to the side, and the heavy engine and the train passed, barely touching her foot but not injuring it.

After the train had come to a stop a few car lengths from the crossing, the conductor rushed back, expecting to see the girl badly maimed, but on reaching her, he found her badly scared but uninjured.

Responded With Ready Wit.

Mr. Curran once dined with a brother advocate, when on circuit, at a small inn kept by a hostess named "Honor." They were pleased with their dinner, and invited the lady to take a glass of wine with them, and handing it to her, proposed a toast, "Honor and Honesty," to which the lady added, with an arch smile, "Our Absent Friends," drank the toast and withdrew.

Not for Him to Rejoice.

"You say you haven't anything to be thankful for?" said the clergyman to one of his parishioners. "Why, look at your neighbor, Hayes; he has just lost his wife by influenza."

"Well," said the parishioner, "that don't do me any good; I ain't Hayes."

WHAT TO DO FOR NEURALGIA

The one great symptom of neuralgia is pain: the one great cause is lack of nutrition for the nerves, in plain language—starved nerves.

There are two things to do for any form of neuralgia. Apply heat to the affected part to soothe the pain, and feed the nerves by taking a tonic containing the elements needed by them. Heat, as afforded by hot flannel, hot water bags, etc., lulls the inflamed nerves into temporary quiet. It does not cure. Not until the nutrition of the nerves is restored will the inflammation subside.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills furnish to the blood the needed elements and the blood conveys them to the nerves. The only way of getting food or medicine to the nerves is through the blood. Remember that. Neuralgia is a general term. It means inflammation of a nerve. It is given different names according to the nerve affected. Sciatica is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. Application of heat will soothe the pain in all forms of neuralgia and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct the condition that caused it.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a little book on "Home Treatment of Nervous Disorders" for the asking.

TURN OUT IN NEW FINERY TO CHURCH

Perfect Weather Yesterday Fills the Churches of the City with Easter Celebrants

SPECIAL SERVICES IN CHURCHES

Musical Program Arranged and Most of the Sermons of the Day Are Short Glad like Nature in their vernal finery, thousands of people took advantage of the beautiful weather yesterday and attended Easter services in the city's churches. Practically every church was taxed to seat the people.

In all of the churches special services were conducted. In most of them a special program of music had been arranged, and in all a profusion of flowers marked the special character of the day. Most of the sermons were short, and all centered about some phases of the Easter observance and its meaning.

Power of Resurrection

The power of the resurrection is its influence for the banishment of despair, according to the Easter Sunday sermon delivered by Rev. Carlos C. Rowison to a thronged auditorium at the Congregational church yesterday morning. Rev. Rowison's sermon followed a program of Easter music by the choir.

The sermon was brief. Rev. Rowison pointed out that the attitude of despair—the "what's-the-use" viewpoint—was at the basis of pagan religions. He declared that the Christian religion's doctrine of regard for others precludes the despairing attitude toward life.

"Men despair today only because they are selfish," said Rev. Rowison. "No man who was working for his fellow-men ever gave up the fight—committed suicide. No missionary ever took his own life; none of the early Christians ever was a suicide. It is because men cannot find God that they say 'what's the use?'"

"The power of the resurrection transformed Rome from a nation of blood-thirsty, cruel tyrants, who sacrificed ten thousand gladiators' lives in one spectacle. The story of the death and resurrection of a humble man of Nazareth uplifted Rome and sent her apostles to face death and persecution to convey our ancestors."

"When one who knows the power of Christianity stands beside an open grave—that of a child, perhaps—he has no thought of suicide. He knows that the child is not under the clouds. He knows that God is victorious, and that knowledge prevents despair. It is through death that life comes. The Master taught the lesson, taking his text from a grain of wheat, which must be buried and disintegrate before it can become useful."

The musical program at the Congregational church included the following:

Prelude: Peer Gynt. Op. 46 Grieg.
(a) Morning. (b) Ases Death.
Doxology—Invocation—Gloria Patri.

Solo—"I know that my Redeemer liveth." Handel.

Anthem—"God hath appointed a day." B. Tours.

Easter Not Enough

Don't go to church Easter Sunday if you cannot go any other time. Not that it will do you any harm, but it will certainly do no good. If you miss church fifty-one Sundays in the year you might just as well make it fifty-two.

Above is the advice given to his congregation yesterday morning by Rev. E. E. Johnson, pastor of Christ Episcopal church.

"You should not be here because this is Easter Sunday, nor because it is a fine day or because everybody else was going to church today," he said.

"Christianity is either worthy of support or not worthy of support. If it is worthy of support give it your entire support. If you believe it is not worthy of support, why support it at all?"

The Easter services at the Christ church were well attended. Special music by the large choir had been prepared.

Members Received

Reception of members and the sacrament of baptism featured the morning services at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Eighth and King streets, yesterday morning.

Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor, chose for his morning sermon subject "The Battle Scars on the Victor." At 7:30 o'clock in the evening a choral service was held at which the beautiful Easter cantata "The New Life" was rendered.

Taxes Auditorium

At St. Paul's Universalist church the Easter audience in the morning taxed the auditorium. The musical part of the service was brilliant and inspiring in every number, there being but one change from the prepared program as announced in "The Tribune" on Saturday; instead of the orchestral number an exceptionally splendid violin duet was rendered by Miss Fairfax and Mr. Glen Hallik, with Prof. Leland Widrick at the organ. George R. Longbrake, the minister, gave an address on the subject, "The Great Secrets of God and What We Know of Them."

Real Thing at Last.

The Customer—"These grand opera phonograph records are no good. I can't get anything out of half of them."

The Salesman—"Yes, they are our finest achievement. You never can tell when they'll sing. They're so temperamental."—Puck.

SAYS BIG BUSINESS OPPOSES PROGRAM

Wilson Declares that "the Interests" Want Trust Legislation Dropped

RUMORS OF ABANDONMENT FALSE

Declares It Absolutely Necessary to Pass Bills at the Present Session

WASHINGTON, April 13.—In the opinion of President Wilson there is a general disposition on the part of "Big Business" to force relinquishment by congress of the administration trust program. It is this attitude, he made plain to those with whom he talked today, that is responsible for numerous stories indicating that the administration will abandon its plans to regulate the trusts until the next session of congress. He said there was no foundation whatever for any such report.

The president said that it was absolutely necessary that the trust bills be passed at the present session in order to keep faith with the country.

That the first fight of the tolls repeal bill is already won in the senate, was the position assumed by President Wilson today. He held that the repeal situation had improved very materially from his viewpoint during last week. The fact that many of the persons who had originally promised to appear before the senate committee on interoceanic canals in opposition to the repeal have decided not to do so, greatly cheered the executive. He intimated that they had "gotten cold feet."

TRY ALLEGED KIDNAPER

OPELOUSAS, La., April 13.—The trial of W. L. Walters, alleged kidnaper of Robert Dunbar, Jr., adjourned today shortly after the case was called and will be resumed tomorrow.

Meanings of Itching Nose.

An itching of the nose in our grandmothers' days gave indication that a stranger would appear before many hours had passed. Dekker, an early writer, says: "We shall have guests today, my nose itches." An old English superstition was to the effect that if the nose itched it was a sign that the person would be vexed or kissed by a fool before the day was ended. With the Germans it was a sign that one would drink wine with a friend.

Cigarette on Mandy's Conscience.

"I got something on my conscience," Mandy announced to her employer the other day. "You know them cigarettes I see you and dem other ladies smoking. While you was out I tuk one. And, Lordy, it made me so sick I couldn't say my prayers."

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 329 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.

OKLAHOMAN TALKS TO HIGH STUDENTS

President Chancellor Bradford of Oklahoma University Discusses Subject of Education

VIROQUA, Wis., April 12.—Chancellor Bradford, president of the Oklahoma university, lectured to the students of the High school and Training school upon the subject of education recently. The lecture was of great value to the students and proved very inspiring. The speaker showed the students that the fact that their parents were not wealthy need not prevent them from gaining an education if they had an honest desire to do so. He showed the difference in the success in life of two boys. One's idea of happiness was to smoke and be with his "jolly bunch" while the other, by persistency, ambition and the swallowing of false pride, made something of his life. He related his own personal experience in gaining an education.

Curtis Funeral Thursday

Thursday afternoon at one o'clock occurred the funeral of Mr. Alonzo Curtis at the Christian church. His death occurred Tuesday at about midnight and came as a sudden shock to every one. That afternoon his wife had been summoned to her father's home near Readstown because of his serious illness. Mr. Curtis was a brother of Game Warden P. S. Curtis of this city. A wife and three sons survive him. Mr. Curtis was one of the oldest members of the Third Infantry band of the Wisconsin National Guard. His death was caused by heart failure.

Miss Hildur Schreiner of Westby visited in the city Wednesday.

Margaret Warren was entertained at the home of Miss Catherine Munson.

THE STAGE HANDS QUEERED THE SHOW

Farewell Performance of Stock Company at Local Theater Funny—for the Audience

The matinee idol has feet of clay, and the only true god of the stage is the lowly "grip." Without his favor or no person or play can get by. If this aphorism does not appeal to you as true, ask someone of the hundreds who packed the Majestic theater last Wednesday night, when the Van Dyke and Eaton company closed their season in La Crosse. The play was "Kathleen Mavourneen," a meller-drammer of the mellerest, but the thills were lost in trills of laughter, deepened into roars and rose into shrieks—when the stage hands got into their stride and began to run things. From the point in the first act, where they supplied Miss Lorene Tolsen with a jug of water she could scarcely lift, instead of the tiny jug called for by the property plot, until Miss Tolsen made a farewell speech from the arms of stage manager Bill Friese, after he had dragged the shrieking heroine before the shrieking audience, the show was a farce.

The Dancing Flowers

In the second act Mr. Foster and Miss Elliott were having a thrilling scene, and were much disturbed when instead of sitting breathless the audience shrieked with laughter. They did not know that the flowers from a vase at the back wall of the scene were doing mad aerial dances at the end of strings let down from the flies. They "woke up," however, when an alarm clock went off with a bang just at the crisis of the scene.

There was a dark scene in the third act, and Messrs. Vickery and Brandon were, to say the least, startled when a white handkerchief on a rubber band zipped across the stage from side to side with nervous rapidity. In the last act the lid came off entirely. Cliff Hastings, as the hero, started in to chop down a wall to get at the villains or something, and just as he raised his trusty sledge high for the first resounding blow the whole works fell with a crash. The stage force pulled the string, and rose triumphantly from the ruins. Somewhat flustered, Mr. Hastings started in to throw the villains off the cliff. In marched, solemnly, four stage hands. They seized the villains, the hero and the heroine, and hustled them about the stage. Then standing upon the verge of the precipice, they solemnly waved adieu and one by one, hurled themselves over the brink. Heaving a sigh of relief as their hurtling bodies vanished, Mr. Hastings got to work and disposed of the three villains in a workmanlike manner—and in lockstepped the stage hands who had so recently hurled themselves over the precipice, picked up the protesting corpses, and dragged them out.

Newsman Stern

The grand finale came when Miss Tolsen, the leading lady, woke from her dream in the final scene. She woke, stretched, yawned—and blam—one thousand La Crosse Tribunes from the flies in a blob fell, and covered up her blond beauty. By the time she had been excavated, Bill Fries was there, and Bill grasped her by the arm and led her before the shouting audience, where she had to make a farewell speech.

JENNY LIND

The Swedish Nightingale of the World's Song Music

It was Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, who was the first to strike the popular chord with the world-wide favorite melody, "Home Sweet Home." She was a little country girl in Sweden and was nine years old when she attracted the notice of an actress, who sent her to the Conservatory of Music at Stockholm. At the age of ten she sang before the Royal Court and later made her debut as Agatha in "Der Freischütz." Strange to say, she made a partial failure in Paris, which was followed by an enthusiastic reception in Berlin, Vienna and London. After her first triumphal tour of the provinces she distributed large sums in charity, as she did all during her long and notable life. Her engagement in the United States was made under the management of the circus man, Phineas T. Barnum, who paid her $300,000 for one season. She married Otto Goldschmidt, of Hamburg, who for many years played her accompaniments. "Home, Sweet Home" is scarcely ever sung in public that it does not recall the memory of Jenny Lind, the singer whose golden notes will never be forgotten.

"Home, Sweet Home," as sung by Jenny Lind, is to be found, of course, in "Heart Songs"—now being eagerly called for by so many of this paper's readers at its business office. Over four hundred songs in one volume—all of them favorites. Read the coupon elsewhere in today's issue—and own this songbook treasure for yourself.

Sailor's Wash Bill Must Be Paid.

Perhaps the most amusing superstition of the sailor is in considering it a crime for any member of the crew to leave port with his washing bill unpaid, as this neglect is generally believed to be the cause of bad weather being encountered just after leaving port.

Needn't Give Up Hope.

Occasionally an old bachelor thinks that no woman would have him, but there are lots of excellent spinsters who are not so awfully particular.—Exchange.

The General says:

"There are real guarantees, also talk imitations"

Certain-teed

Since we have been giving a regular written guarantee on Certain-teed Roofing, one class of competitors has been saying that their roofing "will generally last twenty years, or longer." They don't guarantee it, however, at all. It's very easy to talk, talk, talk and say any number of years in such talk, but responsible concerns must know all about their roofing if they do any more than talk—they must know their roofings really do last when they sign a printed guarantee of plain requirements that the roofing shall make good. Of course, the irresponsible type—those who are likely to go out of business soon—can sign anything. It's very important that the buyer should not be caught in such a trifling manner.

Another very important thing is, these talk guarantees are offered on the cheapest goods the manufacturers make; not being real guarantees, there is no risk. They say nothing about their highest priced brands and qualities—just offer the cheapest thing they have—offer a talk guarantee on cheap goods equal to the real guarantee given on Certain-teed Roofing. It's funny how many people they catch on such things! When you buy a piece of roofing you should know—and know in writing—that it is the best quality—best brand goods made by that manufacturer. Remember—make him put this in writing, that it is his best in every way, and then have the guarantee in writing and properly signed, too.

It pays to be careful in buying goods where the quality could not be judged by the sample—where everything must depend upon the standing and ability of the manufacturer to make good over a long period of years in the future.

Certain-teed Roofing is sold at a reasonable price everywhere by dealers who believe in giving unsurpassed quality at a fair profit. The amount of Certain-teed Roofing required for an average roof, say ten squares, will cost less than $5 over the cheap mail order grade. This small initial cost is saved many times in the fifteen years' wear which is covered by the manufacturer's guarantee.

MISS LEE IS FAMOUS EVEN IN BERLIN

Another appreciation of Miss Lee and her work is contained in a dispatch to the St. Paul Pioneer Press from Berlin which reads as follows:

"Dark-eyed Mabel Cordelia Lee of South Dakota, who has been giving violin concerts with grand success in this city, Dresden and Munich, following a tour through Russia, is being lionized by the German press. Critics do not hesitate to call her the most beautiful American girl on the European concert stage. They rave over the luster of her dark eyes, declaring that when she inclines over her violin, she looks like a companion to the 'Soul's Awakening'."

"She is an artist in every sense of the word. There is life, spirit and soul in her music to lift an audience to its feet."

Skilful Gold Beating.

The gold beaters of Berlin, at the Paris exposition, showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 232,000 to produce the thickness of a single inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light; if these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

Film Flashes

Lillian Gish, nineteen year old star with the Tannhauser company, was cast in a part that called for her to drive a racing automobile in a furious race with an express train. Miss Gish had never driven any kind of a car before, but that was no detriment. She took two hours' instruction from an expert driver and announced that she was ready. She drove the hundred horse power car over the road at sixty miles an hour for the benefit of the camera, and the fact that she was not killed is doubtless due to a kindly providence that watches over picture actresses.

The question is often raised as to whether Miss Kathryn Williams, now appearing in the "Kathlyn" series really does pet the leopards and tigers as she appears to do, or whether trick photography is used. For the benefit of the "Doubting Thomases" let it be said that Miss Williams actually handles these dangerous animals. Of course there are armed men outside the picture ready to assist her if she should become unruly, but one of the animals could easily do her a great deal of harm if it should take the notion.

Florence Lawrence, the highest salaried star in the pictures, is Mrs. Harry Solter in private life. She lives in New York and has not yet seen her thirtieth birthday. She and Little Mary Pickford are at the point in their professions where they can afford to have temperaments.

Mary Pickford will appear shortly in a Famous Players film entitled "Tess of the Storm Country."

Many questions are asked as to who played opposite Mary Pickford in "Hearts Adrift." He is Harry Lockwood of the Famous Players, and only recently one of Belasco's stars, and not Owen Moore, Little Mary's husband, as so many supposed.

INSANE MAN JUMPS IN FRONT OF TRAIN

MONROE, Wis., April 13.—Clarence Richards, aged 26, while insane, committed suicide Saturday by jumping in front of an incoming passenger train in the presence of 200 people who crowded the depot platform. He had been committed to a Waukesha institution and was in charge of an officer, ready to take the train. Richards' home was in Dayton, Wis.

So often a man will say, "Leave that to me," and then he won't do it at all.

SPRING SICKNESS COMES TO EVERYONE

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run-down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devitalized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption.

The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this all-the-year-round medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood.

WOULD FORCE TESTIMONY

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Proceedings will be begun before the federal grand jury next Thursday to compel officials of the Billard company, a holding company of the New Haven railroad, to testify in the investigation now pending before the interstate commerce commission. Following conferences with United States District Attorney Wilson, Solicitor Folk of the commission today announced that he would also institute a civil suit for a writ of mandamus to compel testimony and for the production of the Billard company's books, in accordance with the criminal action which will be instituted before the grand jury.

Illicit Still on an Island.

The County Galway police have made a large capture of "potheen" barrels, tubs, and a fully working still at Gorumna island. They left the mainland in the middle of the night, and concealed themselves on the island until they discovered smoke arising from the still, when they rushed the place. They captured three of the smugglers and 4,400 gallons of wash.—London Tit-Bits.

Post Mortems

(BY HAL SHERIDAN.)

NEW YORK, April 13.—With the opening of the big shows only a matter of twenty-four hours, the Federals cracked the baseball crust today when the Baltimore and Buffalo teams of the Gilmore circuit staged the first real league game for the season of 1914.

As President Gilmore believes in stringing a good thing out, the league will be opened in sections with other premiers on Tuesday and Thursday. Possibly through his long association with a certain citizen of Chicago, Joe Tinker has already shown signs of pennant claiming habits in the new league and announced today that the Chifeds may be expected to gallop home with the flag.

Reports from Baltimore declare that President Gilmore has evidently signed the weatherman, and ideal conditions prevailed today for the opening game.

The National league umpires received their before-the-battle instructions from Secretary Helder yesterday and assignments were made for the opening games. Eason and Hart will officiate at Brooklyn; Orth and Byron at Philadelphia; Orth and Byron at Cincinnati; and Rigler and Emslie at St. Louis. Governor Tener was unable to attend the meeting of umpires here, but sent word to Helder to assure them that he "will steadfastly uphold and strengthen their hands and protect them in the right."

Athletics Swamped

The Athletics had enough runs scored against them by the Jersey City International league team to last for several weeks. The Skeeters wangled out 17 hits, good for 23 bases and 20 runs off Bohen and Durning. The Athletics collected 13 hits but scored only eight runs.

The Cleveland Naps were able to get to Cheney, Pierce and Lavender for only four hits and the Cubs whitewashed them 8 to 0.

Frank Chance's Yankees will have the world's champion Athletics and Jersey City victims on their hands for the opening in New York tomorrow. Chance has McHale, Keating and Caldwell ready to pitch, but will wait to see who Connie Mack starts before making a choice.

The National champion Giants will open in Philadelphia with the Federalized Phillies tomorrow. Today the Giants will play in Baltimore against the International league team as an opposition attraction to the opening of the Federal league.

CHI FANS GREET RETURNING CLUBS

CHICAGO, April 13.—Swarms of fans greeted the White Sox and the Chicago Feds today upon their return to town to prepare for blowing the top off the season.

The Sox pulled in early in the day from St. Joseph, Mo., where they won an Easter bout, 4 to 2, and found a crowd of bugs at the depot. Manager Callahan ordered his men to report for final practice this afternoon before the opener here tomorrow with the Naps. Cicotte, Scott or Russell will take the slab.

Rooters' organizations met the Chifeds, who have in from Covington, Ky., where they were reported to have outdrawn Garry Herrmann's Cincinnati Reds, across the river, in an engagement against a semi-pro outfit yesterday. They will leave Wednesday for Kansas City to start the season, stopping for a Wednesday afternoon exhibition at Princeton, Ill.

NOTICE OF HEARING PETITION FOR License to Sell or Incur Real Estate to Pay Debts or Legacies.

In County Court for La Crosse County, Wisconsin.—In Probate.

Notice is hereby given, that at a special term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the County Court House, in the City of La Crosse, in said County, on the fourth Tuesday of April, A. D. 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Theo. L. Dahl, administrator of the estate of Olaf Rostad, late of the City of La Crosse, in said County, deceased, to sell a piece of real estate belonging to said estate, described as follows:

Lot Three (3) in block Nine (9) of Stevens' addition to the City of La Crosse, in the County of La Crosse and State of Wisconsin.

Dated April 6, A. D. 1914.
By Order of the Court, JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.

JAMES THOMPSON,
Attorney for Estate.

Ancient Custom Kept Up.

To determine the lotting of a piece of meadow land, a quaint device was resorted to at Butterworth, near Boston, England. A candle was lighted and a pin stuck in its side. Then bidding commenced. The candle burned until the flame reached the pin, which fell out, and the land was declared to the last bidder prior to the pin falling. There are people still living who remember when the sandglass was used at auctions in Lincolnshire, and the candle and pin is a revival of an ancient custom.

FANATICAL FANCIES

New spring hats
And new spring suits—A congregation squirming In strange new clothes—New music, flow'rs—
And then—oh, yes—a sermon.

Oh! see what the Easter bunny brought us!

Today starts the baseball season in the big leagues—if you are one of those persons who agree that the Feds are of real major league caliber. They got the jump on the organized baseball trust by one day, by virtue of framing their schedule later. 'Twill be a real merry war for three teams in the cities this year, with three teams in some cases clamoring for the fans' support. With a caution that belies their loudly advertised intention of fighting the "baseball trust" to the grim death, the Federal schedule makers avoided conflicting dates wherever possible—but there are enough crossed wires to provide occasional interesting glimpses at the pulling power of the Midas league.

Will someone please explain why it is that a cane, carried for the first time, feels like a barber pole?

Professional baseball here died. Recently someone tried to burn the ball park. Some loyal fan, probably, who was working on the same theory that caused the Vikings to burn up a man's ship when its owner went to Valhalla.

Peace to its ashes.

Remarkable Bee Hive.

A beehive of extraordinary dimensions has been removed from the roof of Castlehill, an Ayshire (Scotland) eighteenth century mansion. The hive has been known to have been on the roof for 60 years. Its accumulated weight was endangering the structure. Myriads of bees were killed to enable the workmen to remove the slates. The honey store was in perfect preservation, and about half a ton was removed.

Any Undertaker Can Attend to That.

"If there is one optimistic line I do not thoroughly appreciate," remarked Mrs. Knox, "it is when I am ill and call in a doctor to have him look me over and say in his professional, sardonic manner: 'Cheer up, I'll have you all straightened out in a few days.'"

WANT NEW RULE TO HOLD BUSHERS

Majors May Amend Rule Limiting Club to Twenty-five to Save Youngsters from Feds

CHICAGO, April 13.—The rule by which major league teams send to the minors all but twenty-five of their players on or before May 25, may be abandoned, according to dispatches received here from Columbus, Ohio.

Manager Hank O'Day of the Chicago Nationals is reported to have outlined a new rule by which the majors may each carry under contract as many players as they see fit and thus leave no loop hole for the Federals to get the services of promising recruits farmed out to the minors.

It is said that a majority of the American and National league officers favor the contemplated change in the rules.

STRUCK OUT 26 MEN SAYS CLEVELANDER

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 13.—"How's your whip, Willie?" was the question shot at Willie Mitchell of the Cleveland Naps a few nights ago. "Well, it feels like it did when I pitched for the Rosendale team," answered Willie.

"How was that?" came back. "Never heard about it?" chirped Willie. "Perhaps you won't believe it, but I pitched for Rosendale against Arkansas City once, and there wasn't a man on our team who handled the ball while the game was actually in progress except the catcher and myself."

"How did it happen? Well, I struck out 26, and the other fellow fouled to the catcher."

"If you don't believe me, write to ex-Governor O. Pennell of Arkansas, and he'll vouch for the truth of the statement. He was the umpire."

Boric acid in considerable quantities is generally recognized as an original constituent in the waters and gases given off with volcanic emanations. In fact, the Tuscan fumaroles in Italy have been an important commercial source of supply of boric acid for a long time. There is abundant evidence of the presence of boric acid in volcanic emanations in many parts of the world.
